

A roll of plain paper

Masking tape

Crayons, pencils or pens

Body Outline

Cover an area of the floor with paper and tape it down at the edges. Draw around your child while pointing out and naming different parts of their body. Use different coloured crayons to add in more body parts including the nose, windpipe and lungs. Have fun drawing together and talking about the body.

Top Tip

Annotate the parts of the body along the way.

How to:

Lie your child down on the paper and draw an outline around them.

Draw your child's lungs and other organs inside the body outline.

Let your child make their own marks inside the outline.
