

30 mins

Science

We have all experienced the different colours and textures of snot. Some days we feel like our nose is a leaky tap that won't stop dripping. And some days we feel all gunked up with dry, thick or sticky bogies. Healthy phlegm should be watery but infections or being dehydrated can alter the texture.

