

20 mins

Science

If there is one good thing we can all do for our lungs, it is to avoid smoking. By not smoking we are also helping the people around us too, as passive exposure to cigarette smoke is known to harm children's lungs as they develop and slow their growth.