

Feather Racing in the Park

Feathers are very light and come in all sorts of shapes. They will move differently in the wind. This tactile activity will make your child aware of how things move in the breeze.

Keep your eyes out for different feathers you might find in the park

